JUDGE SOMERS A DISCIPLE OF SWEENEY

The Goldfield Tribune prints the following Tuesday morning: "There's likely to be a brisk fight on at Carson City this week over the Nye county division bill and Jack McLaughlin, county chairman, accompanied by Judge P. J. Somers of the district court, will leave for the battle ground this morning. Their visit will be in the interest of the boundaries of the proposed judicial district in case the lower end of Nye county is cut off."

Judge P. J. Somers is trying to work up a scheme whereby if Nye county could be divided, the new county would become a part of his judicial district and increase his salary. Think of this, this judge for his greed for gold would ask that a county be divided that the shekels might roll into his pocket. This man Somers is from Colorado, and undoubtedly is like the judges that spoke for the anti-gambling bill before the assembly. They gloried in the downfall of Colorado and it seems Somers would be jubilant over the downfall of the people of Nye county. We say to you senators send him home and tell him to attend to his judicial affairs, clear up his docket for which he is paid and for which Governor Dickerson appointed him. The governor should give this judge a severe reprimand for the calendar of his court is behind two years according to all reports. This is another case of too much Sweeney, both are severely reprimanded by the people. Goldfield had better look to her own laurels.

BODIE MINER NAMES CABINET

As about every paper from the Bingville Bugle to Hearst's American has picked out a cabinet for the incoming administration, the Miner offers the following as being the real make-up of the crew: President, E. H. Harriman; vice president, J. Pierp Morgan; secretary of state, J. Doughnut Rockefeller; attorney general, N. Watermelon Aldrich; secretary of the interior, Miller and Lux; secretary of the treasury, Henry Hog Rogers; secretary of commerce and labor, Harrison Gay Otis, with Lonely Clarence Branson as first assistant; secretary of war, Baron Kamura, assisted by all the short-haired women and long-haired men in the confines of what is called the republic; secretary of the navy, Thomas Windy Lawson; postmaster general, Carrie Nation; secretary of agriculture, George Graham Rice. It is hoped this line-up will be changed, and this paper will gladly publish corrections as they become apparent.

NYE COUNTY PEOPLE SAY NO

The bill introduced by Speaker Giffen of Manhattan, not of Nye county—prohibiting dance halls is opposed by the people of this county. The taxes and licenses derived from the Tonopah house alone amounts to about $12,000 annually. This the county cannot afford to loose at this time. The county is now negotiating the loan of $50,000 to carry on business with. Speaker Giffen has been written to by prominent merchants protesting against his bill, but his only hobby seems to be to knock Tonopah and Nye county in general. He was elected to represent his constituents, but they are far from his narrow mind. Again the people of Nye county ask, THE BILL DO NOT PASS.

HE SHOWS GOOD SENSE

United States Senator George S. Nixon shows his good judgment when he does not rush into print with the calamity howlers and advocate the closing of dlicensed gambling. Undoubtedly he believes in giving the people of the state a right to decide whether they sanction gambling or not. Every male in this state is entitled to his opinion and the right to cast his ballot as his opinion dictates.

A WORTHY BILL

The bill introduced by Senator Holmes of Washoe county to reimburse Mrs. Sparks, widow of our beloved deceased Governor Sparks, to the amount of his salary from his death until the term expires, is worthy the support of every member of the legislature. The bill should pass both houses without a dissenting vote.

RENO TO HAVE ANOTHER PAPER

Reno is to have another daily paper. A paper that will not be subsidized by the calamity howlers. The plant is to be an up-to-date one in every respect and will appear as an evening paper.

The Reno Gazette is advertising the "Gambler and the Nurse" as the next attraction at the Wheelmens theater. We suppose the calamity howlers will witness this great masterpiece with veil covered faces.

TOPOGRAPHICAL SURVEYS

IN CALIFORNIA IN 1908

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Mount Goddard quadrangle in California, on which topographers of the United States geological survey have been at work during the past season, constitutes a part of the region of great altitude known as the high Sierra. This region comprises about 9000 square miles and includes scenery of wild and rugged magnificence, unsurpassed in any other part of the United States. The elevation ranges from 7000 feet to 14,501 feet—the altitude of Mount Whitney, the highest peak in the United States proper. Many great peaks stand above the 11,000-foot line, among them Tower peak, the Matterhorn, Sedona, Leavitt, Conness, Dana, Lyell, Ritter, Morgan, Williamson, the Evolution group, and the Palladas, and hundreds reach the 8000 feet or more. Some of these peaks are extinct volcanoes; some embrace crater lakes of ice cold water; in places there are boiling springs, and sulphur springs; and pumice and scoria are found in quantities to supply the world with abrasive material for all time. Thousands of lakes 500 feet to 7000 feet or more above sea level, greet the traveler's eye; from some peaks sixty or seventy can be seen. Three quadrangles besides the Mount Goddard are yet to be surveyed to complete the mapping of this region of great geological uplift.

RETURNS HOME TO REFUTE HIS DEATH NOTICE

(By Associated Press.)

LOS ANGELES, March 2.—A remarkable story of wrong identification was revealed today when William Conley of Salt Lake City, whose supposedly dead body was recognized when it washed ashore at Venice about three weeks ago, returned here from the desert where he has been employed, and effected a happy and tearful reconciliation with his mourning "widow." Conley had not seen a newspaper for months until recently when he picked one up, saw the notice of his death and identification by his wife and son.

The body Mrs. Conley identified was found after a storm at the beach lying in water partly under a raft with the face badly mutilated. She and her son identified the remains as that of her husband and father whom they had not seen or heard from for two years, by means of a knife and other trinkets found on the body. The body was buried in Woodlawn cemetery. Today Mr. and Mrs. Conley visited the undertaker, and the latter served notice on the undertaker that she had made a mistake and that the guarantee of funeral expenses she had made would have to be revoked. She already had made a partial payment on the funeral bill. Real identity of the man buried is now as much a mystery as ever.

TELEPHONE LINE IS COMPLETED INTO HELENA

FINAL CONNECTION ARE MADE, ESTABLISHING DIRECT COMMUNICATION.

General Manager F. G. Waterhouse, of the Southern Nevada Telephone and Telegraph company, announced last evening that the telephone line had been completed to Helena and was now ready to transact business. When the line reached the new camp everybody immediately indulged in a regular jollification and numerous messages were sent to the outside world by those who had been long cut off from direct communication with their sister camps.

OLD PROSPERITY MAY RETURN TO EUREKA

Judge Breen, always a booster for all Nevada, is particularly optimistic for his home town, Eureka, the capital of Eureka county.

In a recent conversation he said to a representative of the Austin Revue that matters in mining and in other lines of business had been so shaping themselves that there is no longer any doubt but that the people of Eureka will at an early date have a taste of the old-time prosperity that once made that town the envy of her less fortunate sister cities throughout the state.

The Windfall mine which has been under course of development for some months is practically beyond the prospect stage. In fact it has been developed to a point where the operators are so sanguine of the outcome that they are erecting a mill. A crosscut is now being run at depth that will tell the entire tale of the bonanza proportions of the Windfall. This property is in the hands of veteran and wealthy mining men from Goldfield and if they get something of Goldfield dimensions, then everybody knows the rest—Eureka will hum. There will be nothing like it among the other camps of the state.

Mrs. J. J. Owens, who has spent the winter in Reno, came in on yesterday morning's train and will remain here for several days and then proceed to Los Angeles.

Puddy Grimes leaves this morning for Carson, where he is called on important business.

It's NOT Too Late TO SAVE $100 Every Month

Though January has passed annual statements of foreign corporations can be published and filed in February (leaving a possible fine of $100 for January only.) Foreign corporations that fail to comply with the requirements of the statutes are subject to a fine of $100 for EACH MONTH in which they are delinquent. Those who have not published their statements are reminded that any District Attorney may claim the fine by instituting suit against the offending corporation. If the report is not advertised and filed during the month of February, the company becomes subject to a fine of another hundred dollars, and so on for every month in which it is delinquent. Here is the law on the subject, which will repay careful study:

Chapter CVIII.—An act requiring foreign corporations doing business in the state of Nevada to publish annual statements. Approved March 28, 1901.

Section 1. All foreign corporations doing business in the state of Nevada, shall, during the month of May this year, 1901, and in each succeeding year in the month of January, publish a statement of their last years' business in some daily newspaper in the state of Nevada for the period of one week.

Sec. 2. The secretary of the company publishing the statement shall file a copy with the several assessors of the state of Nevada.

Sec. 3. Any corporation coming within the provisions of this act who shall neglect or refuse to file a statement as required by section 1 of this act shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each month that the published statement remains unfilled with the several assessors of the state.

Sec. 4. Any district attorney in the state is competent to sue to recover this penalty, or the attorney general. The first county suing through its district attorney shall secure the penalty.

It will thus be seen that there is a stiff liability attaching to a failure to file these reports. The Bonanza furnishes forms to comply with the above law for advertising purposes and attends to filing same with the fourteen assessors of the state. Those interested are invited to correspond with this office at once.
